Dr Lester Adelson's original The Pathology of Homicide has been described as a superb textbook and without doubt the best written book of its type in the English language. By Dr Charles Hirsch this new revised edition preserves Dr Adelson's eloquent and articulate voice while bringing the subject matter up to date since the first edition was published in 1974. Dr Adelson's book was a treasured text among many forensic pathologists; the aging of the book however made it less appealing to the new generation of forensic pathologists and Dr Adelson's important contribution to forensic pathology was at risk of being lost. Although much has changed in forensic pathology in the ensuing nearly fifty years since it was first written, much also has stayed the same. In this new edition the author, Dr James Gill, Chief Medical Examiner of the State of Connecticut and past president of the National Association of Medical Examiners, preserves the voice, vision, and wisdom of Dr Adelson while updating the forensic pathology material. The author has included nearly 700 all new color images. In addition, the references have been updated with over 4,400 citations. Six new chapters and sections have been added, including death certification, elder abuse, pediatric head injury, drugs of misuse, histopathology, and bereavement. Other updates are included on DNA technology, CT scans, and novel drugs. Although primarily concerned with homicides, there is the need to be able to recognize natural, accidental, and suicidal deaths; therefore, these topics are interspersed in the text to give the appropriate context. This book will help the reader understand the details of injuries and how a person was injured, why they died, and how these injuries, perhaps at first blush seemingly insignificant, can shed new light on a death investigation. It is the author's hope to get this book to the next generation of forensic pathologists.

Prosopis describes the enormous historical importance of these trees as a human food source and reviews the contemporary food science of the fruit derived from these trees as well. This treatise reviews the native genetic resources of this genus on 4 continents and classical genetic and horticultural techniques that could help stabilize the environment and alleviate human suffering on some of the world's most destitute agro ecosystems. This book is an essential read for researchers interested in forestry and plant science, environmental science, and functional foods. The legume family Fabaceae contains many genera and species that through their nitrogen fixing process provide high protein food and feed for humans and animals as evidenced by its presence in Death Valley, California, which holds the record for the highest temperatures in the world. These types of plants can thrive in extreme environments. Edited by the world's leading experts on Prosopis species, with globally recognized contributors, this book covers the different perspectives surrounding the advantages and disadvantages of planting different Prosopis species, discusses the applications of Prosopis species, including how the fruits of this tree can be used as a raw food material.

Every day of our lives we are faced with situations that could bring to us joy or sadness, love or hatred, fear or confidence. Every event and obstacle of the world around us aims at taking hold of our emotions to influence our feeling and actions. Emotions are at the centre of everything we do. If you can control your emotions, you can control your life. But as straightforward as this sounds, most people are not the masters of their emotions. This is evident by the epidemic of depression, anxiety, suicides, violence, and broken relationships in today's society. In mastering the power of your emotions, you will be presented with an instructive map of the emotional landscapes. So many of us are forced to navigate; you will learn the five laws of emotions and discover how temperament and character influences our emotional responses how to respond rather than react to a situation how to handle rejection abandonment depression and grief how to navigate through suicidal thought and self harm behaviours how to handle anonymous threat and manage different emotional crisis how to gain confidence and have good self image how to release and replace negative emotions with positive ones and a lot more
