a classic first published in 1941 and translated into half a dozen languages space time and architecture is an the unparalleled work on the shaping of our architectural environment the discussions of leading architects wright gropius le corbusier van der rohe aalto utzon sert tange and maki are accompanied by over 500 illustrations

while most books on architecture concentrate on spatial themes this book explores architecture's temporal dimensions through a series of close readings of buildings both contemporary and classic it demonstrates the centrality of time in modern architecture and shows why an understanding of time is critical to understanding good architecture all buildings exist in time even if designed for permanence they change slowly but inevitably they change use they accrue history and meaning they decay all of these processes are inscribed in time so too is the path traced by the sun through a building and the movements of the human body from room to room time this book argues is the framework for our spatial experience of architecture and a key dimension of a building s structure and significance building time presents twelve close readings of buildings and artworks which explore this idea examining works by distinctive modern architects from eileen gray to Álvaro siza and wang shu it takes the reader in some cases literally step by step through a built work and provides insightful reflections on the importance of making space for time in architectural design this is a book for both theorists and for architectural designers through it theorists will find a way to rethink the fundamental premises and aims of design work while designers will rediscover the order and ideas that shape the world around them its buildings interiors and landscapes this study is part of the project context and modernity at the faculty of architecture delft university of technology a classic first published in 1941 this is an unparalleled work on the shaping of our architectural environment in his discussions of leading architects and styles giedion examines the evolving of new traditions the strengthening of its plastic tendencies and conditions for further evolution the urban renewal boom of the fifties and the development of regionalism by creatively oriented architects are you living each day or just running through it we all have 24 hours yet for most of us they vanish into meetings messages and distractions that leave us busy but unfulfilled the time architect offers a new blueprint through the story of arjun an overworked entrepreneur who learns to reclaim his time you ll discover how to break free from the trap of busyness build systems that work even when you don t use tools like erp ai and focus funnels to protect your hours balance ambition with health relationships and joy this isn t about doing more it s about living intentionally if you ve ever felt time slipping away this book will help you take it back because time isn t just managed it s designed speed acceleration and rapid change characterize our world and as we design and construct buildings that are to last at least a few decades and sometimes even centuries how can architecture continue to act as an important cultural signifier focusing on how an important nineteenth century architect addressed the already shifting relation between architecture time and history this book offers insights on issues still relevant today the struggle between imitation and innovation the definition or rejection of aesthetic experience the grounds of architectural judgment who decides and how or fundamentally how to act i e build when there is no longer a single grand narrative but a plurality of possible histories six drawings provide the foundation of an itinerary through charles robert cockerell s conception of architecture and into the depths of drawings and buildings born in england in 1788 cockerell sketched as a grand tourist he charted architectural history as royal academy professor he drew to build to exhibit to understand the past and to learn from it publishing his last work in 1860 three years before his death under our scrutiny his drawings become thresholds into the nineteenth century windows into the architect s conception of architecture and time complex documents of past and projected constructions great examples that reveal a kinetic approach to ornamentation and the depth of architectural representation modernity tends to be considered a mostly western chronologically recent concept looking at locations in brazil java india georgia and yugoslavia among others across space and time provides architectural and cultural evidence that modernity has had an impact across the globe and for much longer than previously conceived this volume moves through space and time to illustrate the way global modernity has been negotiated through architecture urban planning design pedagogies preservation and art history in diverse locations around the world bringing together emerging and established architecture and art history scholars each chapter focuses on a particular site where modernity was defined challenged or reinterpreted the contributors examine how architectures landscapes and design thinking influence and are influenced by conflicts between cultural economic technological and political forces by invoking well researched histories to ground their work in a post colonial critique they closely examine many prevailing myths of modernity notable topics include emerging architectural history in the indian subcontinent and the connection between climate change and architecture ultimately across space and time contributes to the ongoing critique of architecture and its history both as a discipline and within the academy the authors insist that architecture is more than a style it is a powerful expression of representational power that reveals how a society negotiates its progress
